WHO WE ARE

CABUWAZI is a social circus based in Berlin that started in 1994 and now counts six places all around the city (Treptow, Kreuzberg, Altglienicke, Marzahn, Tempelhof, Hohenschönhausen).

We offer circus pedagogical leisure time activities, mostly free of charge for children and youngsters between 4 and 21 years old.

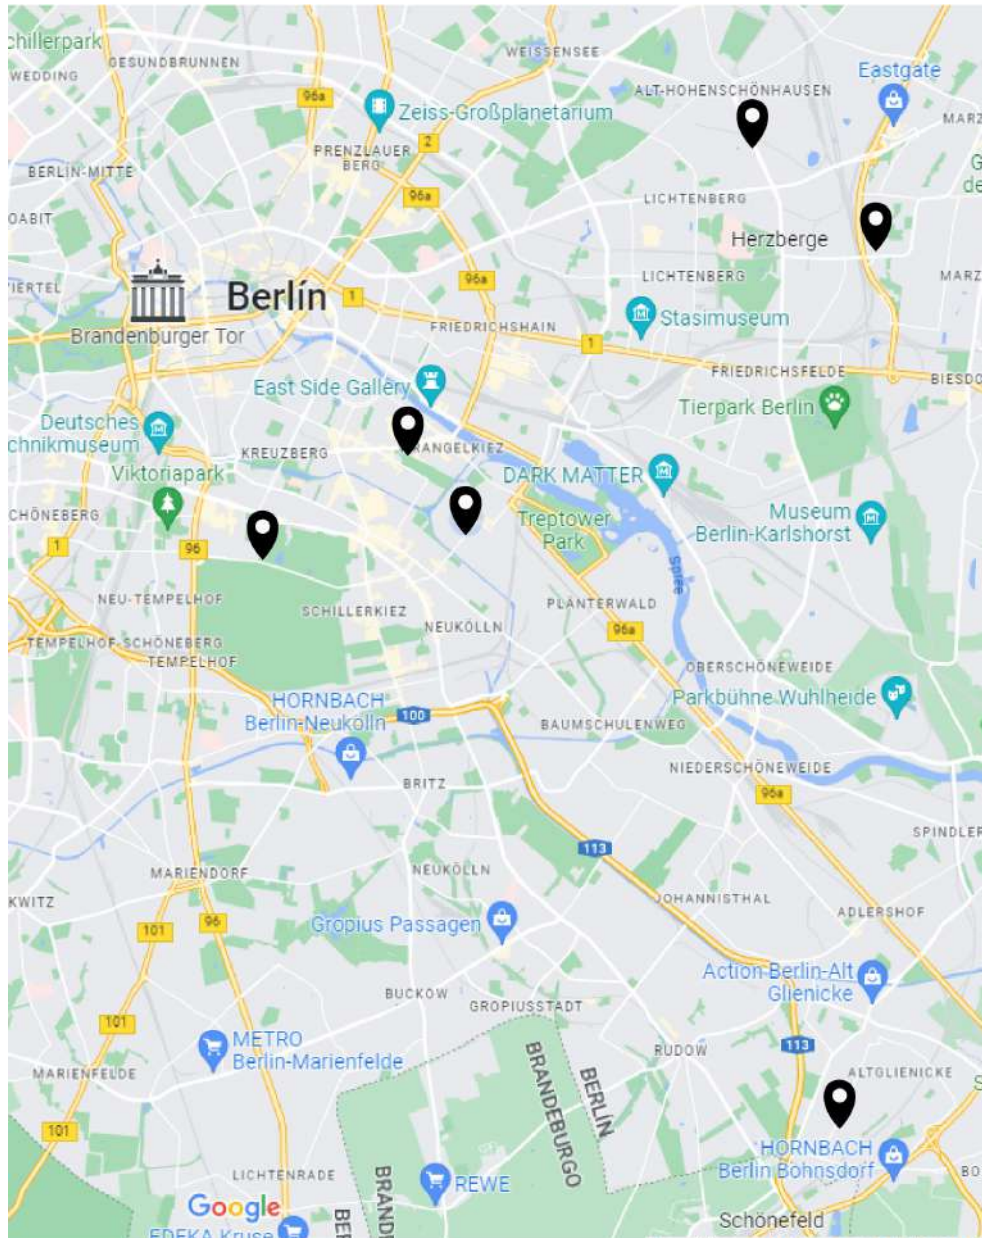

Next to regular training, we organise shows, holiday camps, co-operations with schools, kindergartens and refugee shelters, circus therapy sessions, and circus pedagogical training for teachers (Circus Academy).

Circus is an art form, a way of expressing that goes beyond the spoken language: together with the physical development of the body that circus provides - strength, balance, coordination - it fosters trust in oneself and the others.

The European and international youth work, like youth exchanges and volunteering, are also an important part of the activities in CABUWAZI. We are an intercultural project, which thrives from the cooperation among people from different backgrounds.

COMMUNITY

Being a volunteer is a life changing experience, the possibility to have an impact in the community!

Volunteers will join a group of other 10-15 youngsters, a great chance to connect with beautiful human beings and learn and grow together!

Every week our volunteer community meets for the Monday Circle, from 18:30 to 19:30, to share our experiences, thoughts, dreams but also struggles and fears! We value our group as a safe space to open up and connect.

From 19:30 to 21:30 we have an open training in the tent, where we all train different disciplines and plan common performances!

European Solidarity Corps Stories from CABUWAZI is a blog meant to inspire other young people to come and join our community or make a step in their lives. Is also the diary of our journey, a memory album that blows power in our sails. <https://evscabuwazi.tumblr.com/>
